

About us

Candy & Candy is an interior design and development management company, recognized internationally as a pioneer of bespoke and innovative design, creating sumptuous homes in some of the world's most coveted locations, as well as designing yachts, jets, luxury cars and a wide range of commercial environments. All characterized by an unrivalled combination of detailing, dynamic design, cutting-edge technology and the profound exclusivity synonymous with individually tailored projects.

To date we have applied our striking aesthetic concepts to both large and boutique residential properties in London, as well as designing the ultimate in luxury commissions for private clients as far reaching as Monaco, Spain, Italy, America, Russia, Qatar, Nigeria and Dubai.

In combining exquisite homes, exclusive locations and award-winning creativity, Candy & Candy offer a level of service that has set us apart, internationally, from other interior design companies. Our team of designers, architects and development managers ensure every client's brief is considered and delivered to perfection.

A core strength that sets Candy & Candy apart from its competitors is the ability to offer clients a total project management service that goes beyond the limits of traditional interior design and which masterminds entire projects from conception through to completion.

With specialist knowledge in adapting and refurbishing classical heritage properties, our skills also extend to the design and development management of new buildings. We are able to deliver contemporary and traditional solutions that are both sympathetic to their environment as well as our clients' needs and aspirations.
